JAPANESE PLANES SHOT DOWN

Two Bombers Crash Following Chinese Anti-Aircraft Fire

MASS ATTACK ON CANTON BY 77 INVADING MACHINES

Canton, October 17. Chinese anti-aircraft batteries, on the outskirts of Canton, shot down two Japanese bombers during a mass raid on the city at eleven o'clock this morning.

The enemy craft crashed near Mapa and Tapanin. Three of the Japanese aviators were burned to death, six were killed in the crash, and five others jumped to safety in their parachutes and are still at large. Both the machines were tri-motored monoplanes, manufactured at the Mitsubishi factory.

One of the machines, which landed on the water, was only slightly damaged and may be used after some repair. The other machine's wings were damaged.

To-day's mass air attack was carried out by no less than 77 planes, in ten groups. A number of places on the outskirts of Canton were raided, including White Cloud Village and Fish Eye Village.

countless numbers of houses and farmsteads.

Reports of atrocities from Japanese occupied areas have already begun to pour in with the arrival of refugees from the war zone. Pillaging, raping, and incendiarism have been particularly rampant in the Waichow area, driving large numbers of helpless women and children to the West and North River areas.—Central News.

THREE JAPANESE PLANES BROUGHT DOWN

Changsha, Oct. 17. It is now ascertained that during their mass raid on Yoyang yesterday, three of the eighteen participating Japanese planes were shot down by Chinese anti-aircraft guns.

The wrecked machines crashed, one on the Tungting Lake, the second on the outskirts of Yoyang, and the third on the district precincts of Linsiang.—Central News.

150 RAIDERS ATTACK RAILWAY

Changsha, Oct. 17. A large number of places along the Canton-Hankow railway in Hunan, including Chuchow, Yoyang, Tuolin, and Milo, were made the targets of a series of Japanese mass air raids to-day. The extent of damage done at the different places has not yet been ascertained.

Chuchow, junction of the Canton-Hankow and the Chuchow-Pinghsiang railway, was attacked six times in succession by 106 planes. All the raiders came by way of Siushui in north Kiangsi.—Central News.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN BELGIUM

Brussels, Oct. 17. The Municipal elections which were held throughout Belgium yesterday have resulted in a big success for the Government Parties, and is regarded as a popular endorsement for the foreign policy pursued by the Premier, M. Spaak, during the recent European crisis.

The Social democrats have in the constituencies retained their position at the head of the poll although they lost their absolute majority on the Town Council owing to the increase in the Redist and Communist vote. The Redist movement suffered a severe reverse in most of the places and failed to obtain more than 10 per cent. of the total poll.

The Communists lost votes in Antwerp but, on the other hand, increased their vote in Brussels from 5.7 to 8.3 per cent.

The Flemish Nationalists suffered a reverse but succeeded, on the other hand, in gaining an absolute majority in Schooten.—Trans-ocean.

Recommendations Made In Queen Mary Hospital Poisoning Case Inquest

"System Of Handling Of Dangerous Drugs At Fault" - Jury

FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF DISPENSER'S ACTION

"THE JURY FIND THAT THE DECEASED, Sung Hui-tai, died from the effects of an injection of atropine described as acquor atropine solution of over-strength; that the said atropine solution was prepared at the Queen Mary Hospital dispensary by Stephen Lee Ek-lung.

"We recommend a further investigation be made as to this man's action so far as this particular incident is concerned.

"WE ARE OF THE OPINION THAT THE SYSTEM of dispensing at the Hospital also requires investigations to ensure that a proper record is kept of all medicine dispensed.

"We also recommend that the junior dispensers be investigated as to their capabilities for carrying out their duties allotted to them.

"In this connection we find that the system throughout the Hospital, so far as the handling of dangerous drugs is concerned, is at fault."

This was the finding of the special jury, comprising Messrs. C. Black (foreman), A. Raymond and D. Benson, at the conclusion of an inquest held at the Central Court yesterday into the circumstances surrounding the death of Sung Hui-tai, six-year-old son of Mr. Sung Kwok-cheung, of the Central Trust of China.

Mr. H. R. Butters sat as Coroner, while Mr. E. W. Davies, Crown Solicitor, held a watch brief on behalf of the Government.

The boy, Sung Hui-tai, went to the Queen Mary Hospital on August 23 for an operation for tonsillitis, together with his elder brother. An injection of atropine sulphate solution was given to him, and also seven other patients prior to the operations. It was stated that all eight patients suffered from suspected atropine poisoning. The boy died a few hours after the operation on August 25.

APOTHECARY RECALLED Yesterday Mr. R. E. Cable, Apothecary, Medical Department, was called to confirm a statement made by one of the chemists that there was no record kept on issuing of dangerous drugs. In this connection, Mr. Cable said that the requisition for dangerous drugs

GUERRILLAS STAGE NIGHT RAID ON TAOSHAN

Neighbouring Villages Also Threatened By Units

After several weeks of inactivity during which their forces were strengthened, Chinese guerrilla units in north Kiangsu have once more displayed activity and reached a point 20 miles south of Hsuehchow, preparatory to launching an attack on that city.

Taoshan, south of Hsuehchow, was raided at night by guerrillas on October 15. Taking advantage of the darkness, the guerrillas penetrated the Japanese lines in strong numbers and slew many enemy troops before an alarm was raised.

The rest of the Japanese garrison numbering 100 men, roused from their sleep, offered little resistance and were almost completely wiped out.

Simultaneous with the attack on Taoshan, the Chinese guerrillas also threatened Sanpao and Tsoutsun, two neighbouring villages, which were both held by Japanese garrisons.

Early in the morning of October 18, the Japanese headquarters at Hsuehchow sent out a reconnaissance plane to locate the position of the Chinese forces, who, hidden among the paddy fields, escaped observation by the enemy machine.—Central News.

Hail Of Shots Loosed At Puppet

Shanghai, Oct. 17.

A hail of bullets was loosed at Mr. Zau Shih-klung, a leading official of the "Reformed Government," in an attempted assassination in busy Nanking Road, near Honan Road, down town at 2.30 p.m. to-day.

The lives of Mr. Zau and his four armed bodyguards were preserved by the armour plating of the limousine which was also fitted with bullet-proof glass. Twelve shots hit the car none penetrating.

The two Chinese would-be assassins emptied their Mausers and escaped, discarding one pistol.

Mr. Zau had just stepped into the car outside Hardoon Building en route to the Central Station and the Shanghai Municipal Police to report the alleged embezzlement of Tatao tax funds as he is the Director-General of the Consolidated Tax Bureau for Kiangsu, Chekiang and Anhwei.

All the shots were aimed below the windows indicating that the attackers knew of the bullet-proof glass. Although there were many people nearby, none were injured.—Reuter.

ATTACK FROM NANTUNG

Hwaiyang, Oct. 17. With their numbers increased, Japanese troops at Nantung and Jukao in north Kiangsu have again begun offensives on Chinese positions along the highway.

Fighting broke out at Machao and Tsakiao, two small villages nearby, where the Chinese forces maintained their ground.

The Japanese troops who advanced to Machao have now retreated towards Peifu, while the invaders at Tsakiao were beaten back to Jukao.—Central News.

KING FAROUK

To Assume Title Of Caliph

Cairo, Oct. 17.

Must attention has been aroused by a speech delivered by the rector of the famous El Azhar University, Sheikh El Marghi, at a reception by delegates to the Pan-Islamic conference, which was recently held here to discuss the question of Palestine.

In his speech, which was only published to-day, Sheikh El Marghi referred to the possibility of King Farouk assuming at an early date the title and dignity of Caliph.

All the more importance is attached to this utterance since the Rector of El Azhar University occupies one of the most distinguished positions in the Mussulman community.—Transocean.

CHIANG APPEALS TO OVERSEAS CHINESE

Redouble Efforts For War Chest

Chungking, Oct. 17. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to-day issued a circular telegram to overseas Chinese residents asking them to redouble their efforts in contributing to the nation's war chest in face of the Japanese invasion of South China.

The Generalissimo stated that the Japanese invasion of the South, instead of showing Japan's strength, betrays her anxiety in bringing this war of attrition to a quick end.

The chief Chinese aim at the present should accordingly be to enhance the ability to prolong the hostilities, and in this overseas Chinese could help to a great extent.

The day China accomplishes her gigantic task of national rejuvenation, Generalissimo Chiang concluded, will be the time all overseas Chinese enjoy the glory of full equality and liberty abroad.—Central News.

Trend Of International Situation In Relation To Invasion Of South China

From the history of the past few decades it is possible to mark that the Japanese time their acts of aggression to coincide with the prevailing international situation, says the "Ta Kung Pao" in an editorial. They probably watched, with great admiration, at the manner in which Hitler bloodlessly succeeded in achieving an Anschluss with Austria and in carrying out the annexation of the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia.

In consequence of the tension in Europe, following these events, the Japanese decided upon the bold adventure of beginning their "southward penetration."

The Japanese believe that by attacking South China they will be able to force Great Britain, who finds her vast interests jeopardised, to make China submit to Japanese domination.

Japan hopes for a repetition of the treatment of Czechoslovakia. At the same time, the Japanese seek to extend their full control over South China.

However, we are forced to the conclusion that the Japanese militarists are unsound in their judgment of the international situation, adds the "Ta Kung Pao."

In the first place, tragic as was the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, the British Cabinet under Mr. Chamberlain was on the horns of a dilemma. In our opinion, his yielding to Hitler was not actuated from fear of Hitler's threat. Secondly, as Hitler's ambition seems to be insatiable, Mr. Chamberlain has been forced to speed up rearmament and carry cut other measures associated with preparations for war.

These measures appear to irritate Hitler and at the same time cause certain uneasiness to Germany and her allies.

Last, but not least, the intensification of uneasiness and insecurity which prevails among the nations will tend to compel closer relationship between France and Great Britain, on the one hand, and also between Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

For these reasons, the paper concludes, we may find hereafter a definite development of an international situation which will be favourable to China. Naturally, it depends upon China's ability and indeed, it is imperative for China to continue her pressure upon Japan by her war of attrition.

Under these circumstances, China herself may be an important factor in the creation and guiding of international politics.

GIRL TRAPPED BY BRITISH AGENTS

Enticed Officers To Give Away Country's Secrets

Beautiful Henrietta Steven, who is in a Belgian gaol serving sentence of 25 months for espionage, was trapped after a visit to London, during which she tried to obtain Army secrets from young officers.

This fact was revealed at her trial held in camera in Brussels, when her Dutch lover, Schmitt, was sent to prison for two years with hard labour.

Amazing evidence showed that Henrietta was dominated by her lover; for him she sold her country—not for money.

Her counsel, pleading for her, declared: "This beautiful girl was hypnotised by love."

As she was led below she sobbed convulsively, and begged to be allowed to say farewell to the man who had brought about her downfall. This last request was refused.

When Henrietta came to London she placed an advertisement in the personal column of a weekly newspaper. It said:

A young foreign girl of good family and fortune would like to correspond with an officer of standing with a view to matrimony.

It was inevitable that such an advertisement should attract the attention of the Secret Service, and the visitor was called on by an agent, whose questions frightened her.

That night she and her Dutch lover, Schmitt, took the boat for Flushing.

A warning about her had reached Brussels from London, and when a similar advertisement appeared in a Brussels newspaper the couple were shadowed.

It was found that the girl flirted with young officers from whom she obtained information. Schmitt passed on the news to his German employers.

Emboldened by the success with the younger officers, Schmitt was led to aim higher, and it was he who suggested that Henrietta should get in touch with Belgian or British officers of senior rank in the hope of getting more valuable information, even if she had to marry one or more of them.

The girl was so completely under the domination of the man that she obeyed his instructions.

One of the secrets she obtained was the plan drawn up by the British and Belgian staffs for the joint measures to be taken if it became necessary for Britain to come to the aid of Belgium in the event of invasion.

ADMIRALTY THANKS THE NAVY

The Admiralty have issued a message to the Navy, which was published by the various Commanders-in-Chief on October 3 expressing to all officers and men concerned their appreciation of the work performed in carrying out the order to mobilize, which was effected quickly and smoothly.

The extent of the mobilization ordered was such that complications, which could not be foreseen, threw extra strain on the drafting personnel; and the early release of reservists added to that strain.

They congratulate all officers and men of the mobilization organization on the initiative and resource displayed in dealing with an unprecedented situation. In promulgating this message at Portsmouth the Commander-in-Chief, Admiral of the Fleet Lord Cork and Orrery, added: "After a long experience of both naval and dockyard personnel, I cannot pretend to be surprised at the fine spirit which has been displayed. The ready response and the appearance and steady behaviour of the thousands of reservists obeying the national call have been inspiring to behold and in accordance with the best of our Service traditions."

EMERGENCY EXPENSES

The Secretary of the Admiralty announces that officers of the retired and emergency lists who were called out or who joined for duty abroad during the emergency will be granted a refund of the actual reasonable expenses for uniform incurred by them, up to a maximum of £20.

Such officers should forward claims with receipts bills to the Director of Navy Accounts, indicating: (a) the dates the various articles of uniform were ordered; and (b) the nature of their appointments.

Refunds will be subject to the following conditions: (1) A period of three years must have elapsed since an officer's retirement or, if he has been voluntarily re-employed, since the date of cessation of such re-employment; (2) a period of five years must have elapsed since an officer last received an outfit gratuity; (3) an officer's appointment must have necessitated the wearing of uniform.

UNPOPULAR RIBBENTROP

It seems that Herr von Ribbentrop is not a very popular man nowadays with the Italians. It is said that the Duce is furious at von Ribbentrop's stupid handling of Yugoslavia and Rumania.

All efforts by the Duce to detach the former country from the Little Entente have been stultified by the harsh and menacing tone used by Herr Ribbentrop towards the Yugoslav and Rumanian Governments.

Instead of drawing them into an alliance by means of promises, Ribbentrop endeavoured to secure their co-operation by means of threats. As a result, both countries with strong German minorities within their borders, have decided to turn towards the London-Paris Axis.

The Yugoslav declaration of loyalty to the Little Entente, coming so soon after the Duce's spectacular visit of friendship to a Yugoslav border town, is considered to have done much damage to Fascist prestige and von Ribbentrop's responsibility for it is not doubted in Rome. (L'Espresso, Nice).

DOGS WILL NOT WEAR THE GAS MASKS

Experiments have been carried out by the National Canine Defence League to see what equipment can best protect domestic animals in case of gas attack.

Their experiments have shown that it is almost impossible for dogs to wear gas masks. A mask was specially made for the League some time ago at a cost of £7.7s. The dog on which the experiment was tried could not stand it.

TO-MORROW: MARX BROS. "A NIGHT AT THE OPERA"

LEE TRACY IN LONDON ROLE

Recently Raymond Massey was a member of the audience at the Apollo. He saw Lee Tracy play Harry Van, the American "hooper" in "Idiot's Delight," the part he created in London and which he has been playing throughout the successful run.

Lee Tracy is well known in London on the films; but this is the first time he has made a personal appearance. The manager at the Apollo is fortunate in being able to replace Mr. Massey so well, for in personality Mr. Tracy is ideally suited to the character—in fact, he is a more obvious choice than his predecessor.

All that need be said is that "Idiot's Delight" is still the most arresting and the best acted play in London. Mr. Tracy's interpretation is perhaps a little lighter in texture, but it is as finely in the brilliant picture as Mr. Massey's.

The rest of the cast is unchanged. One can continue to pay special tribute to Tamara Garmon, Franklin Dyall, Hugh Miller, Carl Jaffe, Janet Johnson and Valentine so well, for in personality Mr. Tracy is ideally suited to the character.

MILITARY SCHOOL

Quite a bunch of the First National-Warner younger players get a field day in Brother Rat, the screen version of the play, now in production at Burbank.

Most prominent of them are Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane, whose names have been linked romantically—probably because they are among the studio's favourite "white hopes" for this year.

The film is a typical story American youth with a setting in a military academy. You know what those stories are: this one is a little different.

Also in the cast are those promising young players Jane Bryan, Gordon Oliver, and Jane Wyman. That clever negro actress, Louise Beavers, also gets a nice role, that of an affectionate mammy, of course.

RICHEST GIRL'S DREAM HOUSE NOW READY

Cost £100,000, Is Like Super Cinema Set

A £100,000 dream home built to please the richest girl in the world by a husband who fell in love with her at first sight has been completed. It is in Honolulu and is the home of Mr. James Cromwell and his twenty-six-year-old wife, formerly Miss Doris Duke, whose daily income, as heiress to a $30,000,000 tobacco fortune, is £1,600.

THE RETIRING GARBO

More Rumours About Her Plans

Miss Greta Garbo, so I have been informed by an American film distributor—not connected with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer—will soon retire from the screen, writes a Home correspondent.

She is going to settle down, he says, to the modest seclusion of a Swedish castle on the $1,000,000 or so she is believed to have saved in Hollywood.

The four biggest stars on the screen, according to another American, are an animated cartoon, an ice-skater, a nine-year-old child and a wooden dummy—Edgar Bergen's Charlie McCarthy, seen in "The Goldwyn Follies."

Garbo, I learn from a confidential Italian, is going to retire from the screen and settle down in a villa at Capri.

ITALY'S FAVOURITE STARS An Italian authority tells me that the favourite foreign film stars in Italy are Jean Gabin, Charles Boyer, William Powell, Myrna Loy, Gary Cooper, Clark Gable, Robert Taylor, and, perhaps, ahead of them all, Laurel and Hardy.

Laurel and Hardy, who have lost some ground in the United States and England, are as popular as ever with Italians. This is accounted for by their simple pantomime, easily understood, and the fact that their voices are very fully "dubbed" in comic Italian with an English accent.

A French film magazine has arrived in Venice with the interesting intelligence that Garbo will soon leave the screen. He says she has been trying to cancel her contract with M.G.M. so that she may direct films in Sweden.

The only comment of an American is an offer to bet 100 dollars that when M.G.M. have bigger and better mother roles Garbo will be playing them.

The building has taken two years and the result is described as partly a Roman emperor's villa, partly a Greek temple, with a dash of a Spanish castle and a hint of a French chateau: the whole constituting some sort of Hollywood super-set.

Among its most striking features are:—

- A fern-lined courtyard studded with ophiids, a walk paved with ancient Chinese granite blocks, and a white marble wall with jade inlays.
- A disappearing plate-glass wall twelve feet high.
- A music room with several thousand gramophone records kept in air-conditioned vaults.
- A swimming pool with a diving board equipped with lift.
- A theatre with coloured Persian columns.
- An aquarium with artificial lakes and streams.
- A living room with an oak floor brought piece by piece from a sixteenth century French chateau.

A harbour for yachts, with artificial breakwaters made of lava.

Within the house are art treasures, rare woods, Persian and Indian marble, hand-carved Moroccan ceilings, German iron-grill work, French tapestries, Chinese draperies.

The Cromwells will move in on January 1. They were married three years ago after a romance which Mrs. Cromwell described as "just falling in love at first sight and getting married."

Mrs. Cromwell will not inherit all her father's wealth until she is thirty. When she is not enjoying her home in Honolulu she will be helping her husband in his social work among America's unemployed.

Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING.

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 10 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful. H. F. is developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

CHINESE TROOPS LEAVE WAICHOW

Japanese Take Town After Heavy Bombardment

Canton, October 17.

Waichow, strategic East River town and scene of numerous important battles in the history of the Chinese Revolution, fell into Japanese hands early yesterday morning.

The fall of Waichow was preceded by a furious combined Japanese air and land attack, assisted by squadrons of war planes and heavy artillery. The Chinese defenders, offering stout resistance, repulsed the invaders many times and did not withdraw until their defence works guarding the city were completely razed to the ground by enemy fire.

The Japanese replenished their attacking forces time and again before succeeding in taking Waichow. Earlier on the evening of October 15, a small force of Japanese was driven back with large numbers of casualties.

Fierce fighting continued to rage in the immediate vicinity of the fallen city. The Chinese forces, withdrawing to and entrenching themselves in the numerous heights forming natural defence positions outside Waichow, are holding their ground against fresh onslaughts by the invaders. Central News.

MASS RAID ON RAILWAYS

Canton, October 17.

Points on both the Canton-Kowloon and Canton-Hankow Railways were subjected to another series of indiscriminate bombings by Japanese planes throughout yesterday. The air alarm here, raised early in the morning, was not lifted until 5 p.m.

Wungsha station was the target of seventeen bombs, which killed a score of civilians. A heavy missile scored a direct hit on a drug store, killing four and wounding five. Eleven houses were demolished by the terrific concussion.

Fifty bombs fell on Yingtak, Ngantsaiwan and other stations on the Canton-Hankow line, while scores of missiles landed at Nankong, Shachun, Tintongwei and other points on the Canton-Kowloon line. Central News.

ATTEMPT TO LAND ON PO-ON

Canton, October 17.

Chinese authorities are taking strict precautions against Japanese attempts to land more troops at Po-on, on the mouth of the Pearl River west of the Canton-Kowloon Railway.

Several Japanese war vessels were seen steaming near Po-on throughout yesterday morning and afternoon. Numerous lighters were released from their mothercraft with the obvious intention of making feeler attempts to land their men.

Chinese defence at Po-on, it is stated, is sufficiently strong to ward off any assault by the invaders.

To the east of the railway, strong Chinese resistance is holding the Japanese in the vicinity of Lungyong where a stalemate prevailed yesterday. Central News.

JAPANESE LAND TROOPS NEAR SHIWEIYAO

Air Force Active In Bombing Coastal Provinces

Shanghai, October 17.

JAPANESE SHIPS ARE SAID to have landed troops yesterday afternoon within four kilometres of the town of Shiweiyao according to reports from the Yangtze front. The Japanese forces on the South China front are said to consist not only of infantry but also to include artillery and tanks, landed in part under considerable difficulties.

Although the ground is rather difficult, the rivers are just so low that they permit a passage of artillery and the tanks. Greater difficulties will only arise when the Japanese advance further west where the territory is very hilly and the waterways deeper.

In order to prevent the Chinese putting serious obstacles in the way of the Japanese advance, squadrons of Japanese airplanes heavily bombed all roads and railway lines of South China, also all the places where Chinese troops gathered and all forms of transport.

CHINESE LINES PENETRATED

Following Heavy Bombardment

Hankow, Oct. 17.

Japanese forces on the south bank of the Yangtze, under cover of severe artillery bombardment on the night of October 15, penetrated the Chinese line in the vicinity of Yangwushan. Chinese reports admit.

Japanese warships are said to be concentrating in the vicinity of Salsshan while Japanese artillery units are stated to be taking up positions in Siaoanwan, in east Salsshan.

Heavy fighting is reported to be in progress at Yataotsien south of Shanghai in South Honan, where Japanese forces from Shanghai on October 15, launched a vigorous attack on Chinese positions.

Kwanhsan, southwest of Huangchuan, which the Chinese recently claimed to have recaptured, is said to have fallen again into Japanese hands.

Chinese troops are stated to be at present engaging the Japanese in the vicinity of Wenchusu, southwest Kwanhsan. Reuter.

FORMER EDITOR BEHEADED

Shanghai, Oct. 17.

Yu Tah-yung, alleged Tatsao government official, and formerly editor of the popular Chinese paper, "Chintao," was found beheaded in a Hongkew hotel this morning. Reuter.

MORE JAPANESE CENSORSHIP

Shanghai, Oct. 10 (By Mail).

There has been another case of Japanese censorship of Reuter telegrams from Hongkong.

The information that twenty Japanese transports, accompanied by several warships, had recently arrived at Formosa, was despatched from Reuter's Hongkong Office on October 4, but which was never delivered at Shanghai, presumably having been held up by the censors.

The telegram was despatched by Reuter's Hongkong Office on the 4th. According to Chinese reports, twenty Japanese transports, accompanied by several warships, have arrived at Formosa, where it is believed they will be utilised for an invasion of South China.

It was further stated that additional aircraft carriers have also arrived in South China waters, while a Japanese flagship has arrived in Amoy, carrying a number of high officials. Reuter.

JAPANESE BARRACKS GUTTED

Hankow, Oct. 17.

A Shanghai despatch states that the Japanese barracks at Nantao were penetrated by Chinese guerrillas, set on fire, and completely gutted in a strong wind on the night of October 14.

The fire was not put out till the early morning of October 15, when the buildings were all razed to the ground. Central News.

MARTIAL LAW IN CANTON

Canton, October 17.

Martial law has been declared in Canton by the local Garrison Headquarters late on Saturday night. The declaration, it is announced, is only a provisional measure. Central News.

SWATOW SITUATION

Swatow, October 17.

With the departure of most of the Japanese warships, the situation in Swatow has eased considerably.

The foreign community remains calm and is watching the fighting at Waichow closely. Three British warships arrived here yesterday to protect the British residents.

There are now about 11 Japanese men-of-war scattered between Swatow and Tanghai.

One thousand, and eight hundred more Chinese residents in Slam, who had been deported by the Japanese Government, arrived here yesterday. They are being evacuated to points further inland by the local authorities. Central News.

NEW POLISH CONSUL IN SHANGHAI

Crossed Atlantic In Yacht In 1933

M. Andrej Bohomolec, new Polish Acting Consul-General in Shanghai and the first secretary of the Polish Legation in China, arrived last week in Shanghai in the s.s. Hohen Maru, which he boarded in Dairen, after having crossed the U.S.S.R. by rail.

The diplomat has been transferred to the present position from a similar post in the Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs and is replacing Dr. Jean Kryszinski, who leaves shortly to take up a new post in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Warsaw.

HISTORICAL VOYAGE

A distinguished sportsman, M. A. Bohomolec made a historical trans-Atlantic voyage in a small yacht, "Dahl," from Gdynia to New York in 1933.

Accompanied by two companions, he sailed the vessel across the ocean to enter her on behalf of the Polish Yacht Club in the yacht race held during the Chicago World Fair.

The dauntless trio made a successful crossing of the Atlantic but were caught in a severe cyclone off Bahamas which nearly brought their journey to an end.

One of the companions sustained injuries in the storm, while M. Bohomolec and the remaining member of the expedition successfully completed the hazardous voyage and attend the Chicago World Fair, where they won high honours in the international yacht race.

WHEN HOSTESSES MISBEHAVE

Two dance hostesses of the Queen's Dancing Hall, Wanchai, were yesterday charged before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court with disorderly conduct by fighting at the cabaret.

They were Chan Shiu-ping, 25, who pleaded guilty and was bound over in the sum of $25 to be of good behaviour for one year, and Tang Lai-si, 24, who failed to appear to answer the charge, had her bail of $25 estreated.

The police said that the two defendants used to live together some time ago, and during this time Chan had lost some jewellery and blamed Tang for having taken it.

On Sunday evening, the two defendants came to argument in connection with the alleged theft and finally came to blows.

BLOUSES FLUTTER INTO FALL FASHION

Formal Ones Do Double Duty

BLOUSES ARE IN THE LIMELIGHT. The fall styles include a number of tailors with some brand new notions in this category. This is indeed the time to start haunting the blouse departments.

The newest blouses are more akin to dress tops than to ordinary blouses. They either tuck in the skirt or else belong to the tunic variety, fitting smoothly over the hips. Sleeves are either short or long. (There are some women who do not look their best in long sleeves) and necklines continue to be worn high, although with a great deal more softness.

The "bloused" blouse, that is, pouched all around the waistline, which Piquet launched in the spring, promises to continue its vogue well on into the coming season. These are particularly becoming to slim hipless figures.

LACE ENCUSTATIONS

Very dressy blouses usually combine chiffon and fine chantilly or satin. The style is much more intricate with the lace encrustations forming Louis XV bows or other motifs. Bows and loops by the way, are coming in with the fall season. Maggy Rouff trims the neckband of a slim black silk crepe tunic blouse with two large and wide loops of black satin ribbon knotted on one side, while Mainbocher finishes a bright royal blue satin ribbon blouse with an amusing little corolla collar, in front only, and wide twin loops which almost cover the bosom.

This blouse is worn with a slim skirt and a full-length coat in black ribbed wool, the satin collar and loops being worn over the coat. A distinctly unusual idea.

Many of the more formal blouses offer the added advantage of doing double duty in the guise of informal dinner dresses, with the addition of a simple but well-cut skirt in satin or crepe or, later on in the season, in velvet. This skirt can be of the same colour as the blouse or in black.

Lame chiffon, which is ultra thin and supple, makes a stunning evening blouse or, rather, an informal evening dress, when combined with a slender black silk jersey skirt. The blouse in dull gold lame is very full, with a deep rounded yoke worked in the finest sunray pintucks. The fullness "bloused" all around the waistline and the long full and pouched sleeves are caught in at the wrist. This idea could be expressed in a silver and blue lame blouse combined with midnight blue satin skirt, or in a number of other combinations, preserving the idea of lame for the blouse, however, which always lends a "party" look to things.

SINGER WHO SHOT HOMING PIGEON

Dennis Noble, the opera and radio singer, was fined $3 10s. at Berkhamssted, Herts, for shooting a homing pigeon at his home at Wiltshire, near Tring.

He pleaded guilty to shooting the pigeon, but in a letter to the magistrates said that he had mistaken it for a wood pigeon which had been eating the peas in his garden.

It was stated that when a neighbour accused him of shooting the bird he said that he thought it was a starling.

In addition to the fine, Mr. Noble was ordered to pay $1 towards the value of the bird.

Probate to the will of Leung (or Long) Wing Chi (or Che), launch owner, who died at the age of 82 years on October 27, 1937, in Hongkong, has been granted to the petitioners, Leung Wong-shi, widow, Leung Wong-shi concubine and Leung Kam-wing son of the deceased.

Value of the estate is $10,400.

The Central Government, in a recent order to various provincial and district authorities, declares that, henceforth, reconstruction measures of every description and exploitation of the country's resources should be based first and foremost upon the policy of strengthening the country's national defence, says a report to the "Sun Wan Pao".

Probate to the will of Ashken Apcar, widow, who died at Monte Carlo, Monaco on April 1, 1938, has been granted to the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, on whose behalf the application was made by William Gordon Crabbe, banker, and attorney.

Value of the estate is estimated at $34,700.

720 Dances At One Ball

Film star Priscilla Lane—you see her in this picture—is going to dance 720 dances at one ball . . . and she's training for it! This is how it's come about: She promised to go to Lexington—in Kentucky, U.S.—for the premiere of her new film, dealing with military life. Lexington Military Academy invited her to attend their ball the same evening.

Then the fun began. Letters, scores of 'em, came from the cadets—all asking her to partner them at the ball.

So Priscilla decided, "I'll dance with each and every one of them"—and there are 720!

But Priscilla's not going unprepared. She'll take a hairdresser—to stand by with brush and comb; a wardrobe girl—ready with twelve pairs of slippers and a change of clothes; and a maid, to hold restoratives.

Priscilla plans to dance non-stop all night, partnering cadet after cadet, and at intervals the maid will rush in with the restoratives to give her new strength.

The dance is planned to last all night. But even if it—and Priscilla—keep going for a full twelve hours, the longest time each lucky Lexington lad can hope to have the film star in his arms is just ONE MINUTE.

BRACELET NOTE

A new idea for finishing off the sleeves of a woollen ensemble is to have wide insets of gold wool at the wrists, which look very like filigree bracelets.

This fashion point looks particularly attractive when carried out on the sleeves of one of the little fitting bolero jackets which are still so popular. A particularly good colour alliance is that of watercress green, with the touch of gold introduced at the wrists.

Silver, of course, may be used for the "bracelets" with equal success, or any colour which contrasts well with the rest of the ensemble.

HONGKONG, OCTOBER 18, 1938.

COME TO HONGKONG

FOR SOMETIME NOW the authorities in Hongkong have endeavoured to "boost" the Colony as the playground of the Far-East where the climate is "unrivalled for the winter months." Some years ago, a Travel Bureau was formed and, though it must be granted that this bureau does very useful work in giving information to visitors arriving in the Colony, it must also be stated that very little has been done insofar as actually "advertising Hongkong" is concerned.

There are very few magazines or newspapers with pictures of Hongkong. It seems that, unless some systematic drive is organised, the chances of really putting Hongkong on the map as a holiday resort are very remote. It seems such a pity, especially as Hongkong has more to offer to-day, in artificial amusements, than ever before. And when it comes to sport, there is such a variety to choose from that even the most fastidious of individuals should have nothing to complain about.

THE HOTELS PLAY A VERY IMPORTANT PART in this business of boosting Hongkong but it is feared that sufficient credit is not given them for their trouble. In the winter months, especially, the management of these establishments go to much trouble and expense to bring out artists from Europe and America, not to mention other features to popularise the night life of the Colony. While on the subject of night life, it has always been stated, somewhat unfairly, that there is no night life in Hongkong—that the place is dead. Most of these criticisms originate from Shanghai, where the gay young crowd, in the more peaceful and settled days of the past, never could find anything "fast enough" for them. These same critics, now in Hongkong in the role of refugees, are finding that Hongkong is not such a bad place after all, and that perhaps, after all, a moderate night life, is better than a hectic one.

THE RACING SEASON is now in full swing, and every fortnight followers of the turf will be able to indulge in their favourite sport. One London critic once said that, if one "wanted clean racing, one had to go to Hongkong for it."

MANY OFFERS OF HELP AT REFUGEE CAMP

Workers Hindered By Volunteers

The Director of Medical Services is very appreciative of the very many personal offers of help that have been made at the Government Refugee Camp at Kam Tin in the past three days, since the invasion of Kwangtung made the opening of this camp a necessity.

He wishes, however, to point out that those engaged in the actual work of constructing the camp and in providing shelter, water, food, lighting and medical attention, etc., for the refugees are being hindered in their work by kindly disposed persons who have presented themselves at the camp in embarrassing numbers for the purpose of offering their assistance.

It is earnestly desired, therefore, that such offers of help should be made through the various Chinese Relief organisations who are invited, in turn, to co-operate with the Emergency Refugee Council at the Bishop's House, Pedder Street, Hongkong.

His request is made because the Emergency Refugee Council is assisting Government in the welfare work of the camp and the main relief organisations in Hongkong are represented on its General Council.

WARM CLOTHING. Immediate help would be welcome in the form of blankets and warm Chinese clothing for children and adults (or whom there are nearly a thousand), of whole cream milk for children and of garden implements and seeds for cultivation of vegetables in the camp area. Gifts of these may be sent to St. John's Cathedral on the Island of Hongkong and St. Andrew's Church, Hall in Kowloon. Yet a further way in which well-wishers can help is in providing motor transport for refugees from Sha Tau Kok, Tai Po and Sheung Shui to the camp site.

It should be noted that only persons in possession of permits can be admitted to the camp.

GIFTS FOR IMPERIAL WAR MUSEUM

Books From Germany

German war books are the most numerous among the foreign volumes added to the library of the Imperial War Museum during the past year.

The museum's 20th annual report lists the names of more than 40 German donors to the library. French gifts number 30. There are also gifts from many other countries, including the Allies during the Great War.

Steps are being taken to preserve the unique war films belonging to the museum. Some of the original negatives, developed during the war and now more than 20 years old, have shown signs of deterioration.

Duplicate positive copies of those most seriously affected are being made. Seven producers were granted permission during the year to use war films for incorporation in other pictures, and the museum was paid £125 for these rights.

CHINESE VELVET FOR LONDON MUSEUM

A rare piece of 18th-century Chinese velvet has been presented to the Victoria and Albert Museum. It is hanging in the New Acquisitions Room, but it will ultimately form part of the permanent Chinese art collection, in the North Court, to be selected by Mr. Leigh Ashton.

An important acquisition is the Italian marble angel of the Annunciation, of the 14th century, hitherto on loan. It has been famous since Mr. Mason Perkins identified it many years ago as belonging to a figure of the Virgin in the Louvre.

Gainsborough's famous coloured chalk portrait of the first Lord Rivers, which attracted attention when exhibited at the great Gainsborough Exhibition at Clarendon in 1931 and has until lately been in an American collection, is another addition.

MACAO PRICES SOAR

With the disruption of communications between Canton and Hongkong as a result of the Japanese South China invasion, Hongkong is now purchasing vegetables and firewood from Macao. Consequently the prices of these commodities in Macao have increased considerably. This condition becomes the more acute with the blockade by the Chinese authorities of the channel at Bocca-Tigris.—Wah Kiu Yat Po.

KWEILIN CENSUS

The Kweilin Police Office has, upon instruction from the Provincial Government, made a census of Kweilin city for the period covering August 15 to September 15.

It was reported that there were 18,346 families in the city. Of these there were 70,372 males and 47,423 females, making a total population of 117,795. This number excludes those staying in hotels who are generally "on the move." The main purpose of having a census is to guard against traitors and spies.

POISONING CASE VERDICT

must bear the signature of a medical officer and when after having been prepared by the dispenser, it must bear the initial of a medical officer before they could be complied with.

This record only concerned dangerous drugs, and not first scheduled poisons. Atropine and arsenic were not classified as dangerous drugs but first scheduled poisons.

Dr. I. Newton, Medical Officer in charge of the Queen Mary Hospital, in evidence said that he was not informed of the change of use of solution of atropine sulphate instead of atropine tablets on August 17.

SENT TO ANALYST

About 9 a.m. on August 26, Dr. Lien and Dr. Dean Smith came to his office each with a bottle of atropine solution in their hands. Dr. Dean Smith described what happened. Mr. Cable, who was near the office at that time, was called in and after some discussion, Mr. Cable took the bottles to the Government Analyst.

Witness said he then went round the wards and saw the remaining seven patients who were still suffering from the effects of atropine. He went to the dispensary and discussed the matter with Mr. Lee and the other dispenser, Mr. Chow, and instructed Mr. Lee to recall the bottles of atropine that had been issued to the wards.

On the following morning again went to the dispensary and asked for the recalled solution. Mr. Lee said he had forgotten to do so. He explained he was muddled with the previous morning's said witness. "Mr. Chow telephoned to the wards. A bottle was produced from the Bland Sutton ward while I was in the dispensary. I was informed that Dr. Dovey had thrown away those from the Maternity Ward."

Dr. Newton said that the bottle recalled from the Bland Sutton ward was kept in his desk and was later sent to the Government Analyst.

SOLUTION ISSUED

Dr. Newton said that according to statements he gathered that 49 cubic centimetres of the solution had been issued to various wards between August 17 and August 25. The Analyst's report stated that there were 70 c.c. left in the stock bottle, thus making a total amount of 119 c.c. According to Mr. Lee's evidence, he had only prepared 100 c.c. of the solution altogether on August 17 and August 24. Therefore, there was recorded an extra amount of 19 c.c. of the solution which was not accounted for in the evidence.

Dr. Newton suggested that the second solution was not prepared on August 25, but between August 20 and August 24. This second solution was poured into the stock bottle where there was a small amount left over from the first preparation. The small bottles in the wards were refilled from this mixture of first and second preparations.

Witness continued to say that Mr. Lee might have made a mistake in the weighing of the atropine sulphate for the preparation of the second solution. Witness said that 0.3 gram of atropine sulphate dissolved in 50 c.c. of distilled water would produce a solution of same strength of 5 grains of the salt dissolved in the same quantity of water.

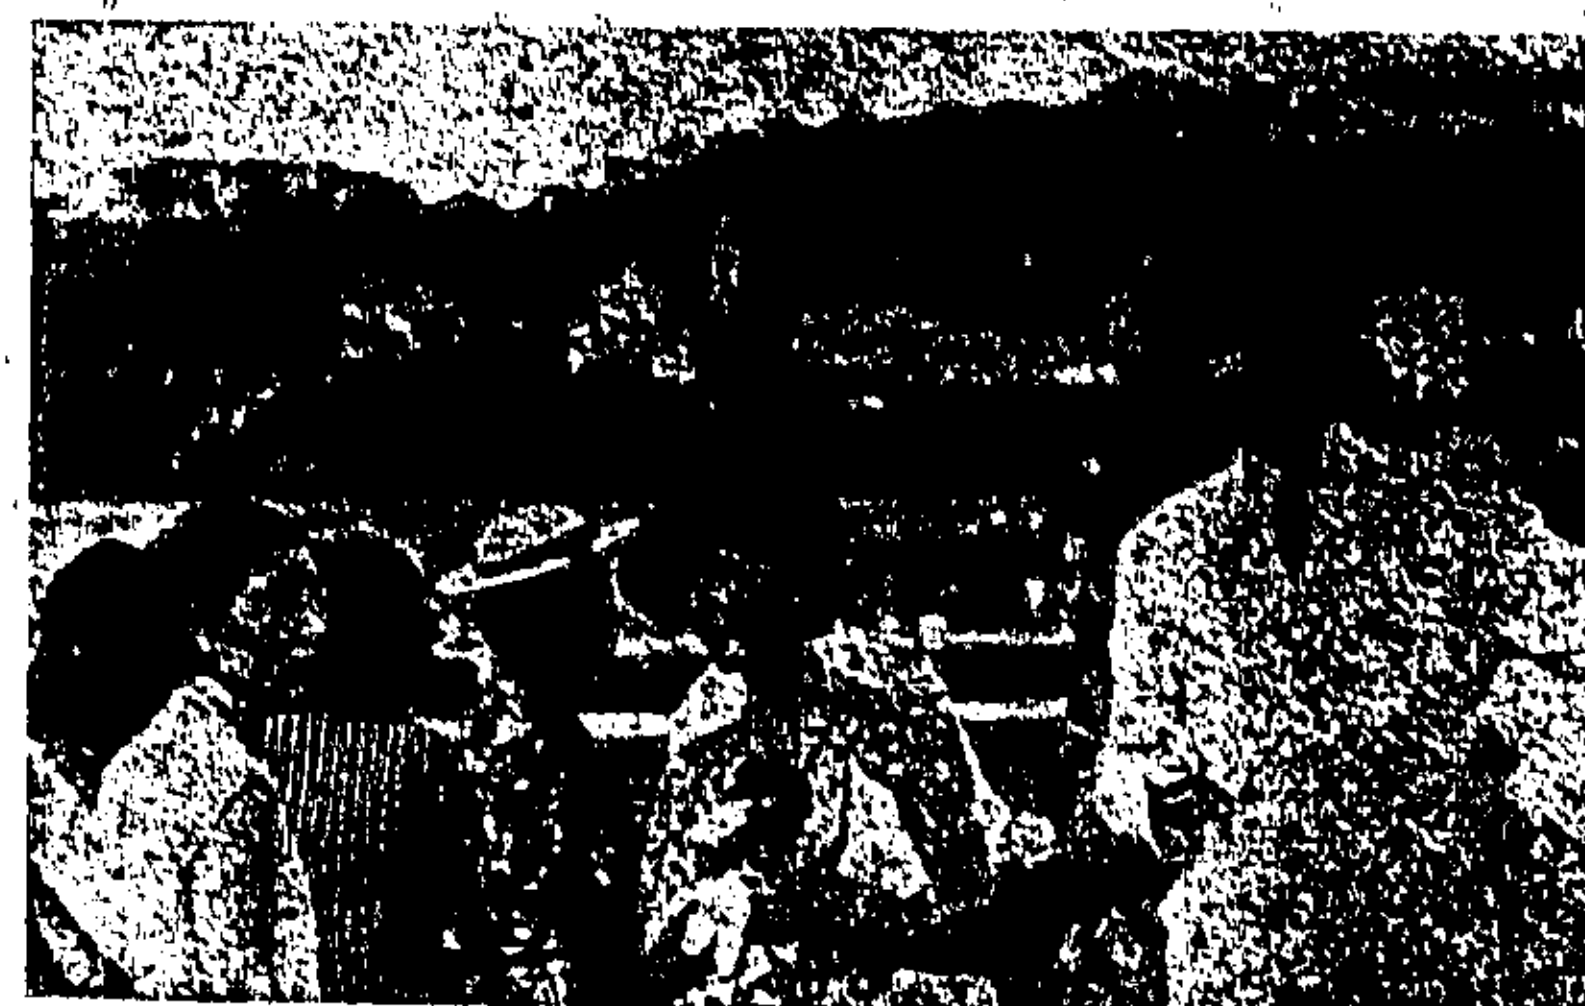

MIGHT HAVE MADE ERROR

In weighing out the salt, Mr. Lee might have made the error of 5 gram of atropine sulphate instead of the proper quantity. The solution then would be 18 to 19 times stronger than the right one. This second preparation was added to the remains of the first lot, diluted and came to a strength of about 10 times stronger than the proper solution, aquor atropine.

This mixed stock, witness said, was added to the small bottle sent by the Payet ward for refill. The solution was used for injection on the patients.

After the injection Mr. Lee received a complaint that the atropine solution was at fault. He was not certain which of the two preparations was at fault, so he recalled the outstanding quantity of the solution. Between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. Mr. Lee made a fresh quantity of 100 c.c. said Dr. Newton, and threw away the quantities from the Bland Sutton and Maternity wards and refilled the bottles of the various wards with the fresh solution that was of proper strength, and after refilling the "containers" there remained in the stock bottle a quantity of 70 c.c. of the solution, which was ac-

TEST SHIP FOR COAL FUEL

Industries' Joint £80,000 Venture

A tramp steamship of 7,000 tons is to be built on Clydeside at a cost of £80,000 to demonstrate the advantages of coal fuel over oil.

Among the interests which will co-operate in this construction are shipbuilders, boiler-makers, turbine-makers, engine constructors, and, if conversations now in progress are successful, coalowners.

The plans for the ship will, it is anticipated, be completed in about three months. Construction will occupy a further nine months, so that it should be launched in about a year's time.

DEPARTMENTAL COMMITTEE

Already £10,000 of the required capital has been put up by one firm. Participating interests will be asked to take shares in the venture to the value of the work carried out.

The ship is to trade throughout the world as a tramp, on a strictly "paying her own way" basis. Results of operating her will be published every quarter or half year, so that it may be seen whether she is making a profit or loss.

Construction follows publication recently of conclusions reached by a committee appointed by the Mines Department. Its terms of reference were to examine the possibility of increasing the use of coal for bunkering purposes in the national interest.

One conclusion was, "It would be advantageous if, by joint effort of the interests concerned, a ship were built as an experiment embodying all modern improvements in steam technique. By this means complete data as to performance of the smaller type of modern coal-fired steamships would be made available."

ADMIRALTY SUPPORT

Mr. W. T. Townsend, consulting engineer to the group behind the project, said:

"This is not a crank idea to get the Navy back to coal. It is simply a project to get a part of the mercantile marine back to this fuel."

"In this way the Admiralty, whose moral support we have, be relieved of worries about fueling many of our food ships in time of war. The home coal industry would be helped and also, to some extent, the export coal trade."

"The ship is planned to demonstrate and prove the claims of coal fuel, as used in co-operation with modern inventions and designs. We want to give coal, one of our basic, life-giving industries, a real opportunity to show what it can do."

"There has been far too much comparison of coal and oil on unfair lines. Modern diesel ships have been compared with hand-cranked coal ships of the type which were 'modern' a quarter of a century ago."

"We shall push the claims of the coal fuel supply to a logical conclusion, and produce a really modern ship embodying water-tube boilers, mechanical stokers, high pressure, super-heated steam, and high pressure turbines."

"In this way we hope to achieve a really fair basis for comparison and competition."

counted for in the Analyst's report.

Dr. Newton made one other suggestion that liquor atropine, which was 14 times stronger than the proper solution, had been used to refill the small bottles from the wards. This, he said, was inconceivable, because the stock bottles of the two solutions were far apart.

Dr. Newton said the error might have occurred in the confusion on the part of the dispenser between grain and gram.

PREACHER FOR CITY TEMPLE

Woman To Assist Rev. Weatherhead

It was announced at the City Temple, London, recently, that from Oct. 1, for 12 months, Miss Dorothy F. Wilson, daughter of Sir Courthope Wilson, K.C., of Liverpool, is to be Public Associate. The Church Council states that such assistance must be provided for the minister, the Leslie D. Weatherhead. If the real danger of a serious setback in the recovery of his health is to be avoided when he resumes his duties.

Miss Wilson, who is 45, is taking up temporary duties similar to those assumed by Dr. Maude Royden 20 years ago at the same church.

Her grandfather on her mother's side was a personal friend of the famous Dr. Parker of the City Temple.

TRAINED AT OXFORD

After being assistant at the Crosby Congregational Church, Miss Wilson was trained for the ministry at Mansfield College, Oxford. Ten years ago she became assistant minister at Carrylane Congregational Church, Birmingham, and subsequently was minister at West Bank Church, Lancaster.

She went abroad and for a time was chaplain and lecturer on religion at Mills College, California. Recently Miss Wilson preached to crowded congregations at the Union Church, Brighton. She stated that it had not yet been decided when she would preach her first sermon at the City Temple.

"I have been round the world six times," she said. "I have been in ill-health—for years she has suffered from arthritis of the spine—and have gone from country to country trying to find a climate to suit me. Every year I have returned to see my father. Now my doctors have advised me to stay in England for a while."

PREACHED IN HONGKONG

"In all the countries in which I have preached I have never found such appreciative congregations as here at home. I have preached in Sydney, Adelaide, Brisbane, New Zealand, California, Honolulu, and in the cathedral at Hongkong."

"I found the Australians very appreciative. Theological ideas in America are not quite so advanced as in England."

Speaking of psycho-analysis in the Church, Miss Wilson said she did not consider that she herself was fitted for this branch of work. "I think there is a great future for properly-qualified psychoanalysts in the Church," she added. "The trouble lies in the superficial practitioners who are with many churches. I do not think, however, that psycho-analysis will ever supersede human kindness and common sense."

MR. LAURENCE HOUSMAN

Pacifist Candidate For Rectorship

At the age of 73 Mr. Laurence Housman has decided to contest the Lord Rectorship of Glasgow University as candidate of the Peace Pledge Union.

The other candidates are Sir Archibald Sinclair, for the Liberals, and Sir Henry Lunn, standing as a Distributist with a Roman Catholic interest.

The seat was last held for the Peace Pledge Union by Canon H. R. L. Sheppard, who was elected on Oct. 23 last year and died a week later. His three opponents included Mr. Churchill.

Mr. Housman has won distinction as a novelist, playwright and poet, after beginning his professional career as an artist. He is the author of "Victoria Regina," the play of episodes from the life of Queen Victoria.

MR. WINSTON CHURCHILL REPLIES TO HITLER

If The Powers Had Only Acted Together!

London, October 16.
Mr. Winston Churchill, broadcasting to America to-day, replied to Herr Hitler's recent strictures upon himself. Mr. Anthony Eden and Mr. A. Duff Cooper, former first Lord of the Admiralty.

After speaking of the disaster which had befallen Europe, Mr. Churchill reiterated his conviction that 17 months ago, Britain, France and Russia had jointly declared they would act together against Germany. If Hitler committed an act of unprovoked aggression on Czechoslovakia, and had invited Poland, Yugoslavia and Rumania to join the combination of peace-defending Powers, Hitler would have been confronted with such a formidable array that he would have been deterred from his purpose and the moderate forces in Germany would have been rallied.

Parliamentary democracies and liberal peace forces everywhere had sustained defeat, leaving them weaker to cope with the increased dangers.

The whole world wanted peace and security, but we had gained it by the sacrifice of Czechoslovakia, which had been deserted, destroyed and devoured, and was now being digested.

Would this bring blessing or a curse upon the world? asked Mr. Churchill. The question all the English-speaking peoples were asking themselves was, is this the end, or is more to come? Could peace be secured by submission to organised and calculated wrong-doing and violence?

NAZI TYRANNY
Mr. Churchill slashing attack on the communist Nazi tyranny and added that "this combination of medieval passion, party caucus, weapons of modern science, blackmailing power and airbombing is the most monstrous menace to peace and order and fertile progress that has appeared in the world since the Mongol invasions of the fourteenth century."

Europe now lay abashed and distracted before the triumphant assertions of dictatorial power. Mr. Churchill urged, for the sake of peace, a swift and resolute gathering of forces to confront not only military but also moral aggression.

Referring to dictators he said "You see dictators on their pedestals surrounded by the bayonets of their soldiers and truncheons of their police on all sides. They are guarded by masses of armed men, canons, aeroplanes, and fortifications; they boast and vaunt themselves before the world yet in their hearts there is an unspoken fear. They are afraid of words and thoughts—words spoken abroad, thoughts stirring at home."

A dictator all-strong without was all-weak within. Mr. Churchill gave as his opinion that dictatorship was a passing phase and could not long endure if brought into contact with the healthy world outside.

HUMDRUM OF ACTIVITY

Canton, Oct. 17.
Since the declaration of martial law in the city there has been a humdrum of activity military lorries, loaded to capacity, packing their way through the streets thronged with thousands of evacuees.

It is estimated that nearly a million have evacuated from Canton and the surrounding districts whilst 400,000 remain but the number is fast diminishing.

The Chinese military authorities have requisitioned all lorries to transport troops and equipment outside the city where it is understood a final attempt is being made to hold off the attackers.

At the same time a continuous stream of troops is passing through en route for the front.

WITHOUT NEWS
The utmost confusion prevails as the emergency regulations prohibit discussions or publication of military activities and the populace is terrified with Japanese planes bombing and the city being virtually without news.

Censorship has been proclaimed on mails but there has not yet been time to discover how effective the measure is as very few mails are arriving. Shops and houses are closing their shutters.

A hundred small craft are moored round Shamoen which is bounded with barbed wire entanglements and is well policed.

The unending stream of supplies and cargo which had been entering Shamoen during the past few days suddenly ceased at 2 p.m. when the gates were closed but there was no restriction on the

SPEECH MISFIRED IN BERLIN

Mr. Churchill And Germany

Berlin, Oct. 17.
That Mr. Winston Churchill's speech has misfired is the view of the German Foreign Office. A well-informed political commentator stated that Mr. Churchill's reply to the Fuehrer's Saarbruecken speech is in fact the most complete confirmation of all the Fuehrer said regarding men whose aim it would be to make war.

The spokesman suggested that Mr. Churchill wanted to start a preventive war against Germany. Referring to the general attack made on dictators, the commentator said that "we see things differently from Mr. Churchill."—Reuter.

ITALIAN COMMENT
Rome, Oct. 17.
Under the heading, "Churchill's pitiful attack on totalitarian states," Mr. Churchill's speech is mentioned briefly on the back page of the "Messaggero," the London correspondent of which states that Mr. Churchill confirmed the fact that Herr Hitler was right in saying at Saarbruecken that with Mr. Churchill, Mr. Anthony Eden and Mr. Duff Cooper in the British Government there would have been a European war. The correspondent added that the speech was a series of supremely commonplace spiteful attacks on the totalitarian states and the Fascist idea which Mr. Churchill, with notable ignorance and complete lack of political and historical sensibility, confused with Communism.

COPPER PRODUCTION

London, Oct. 17.
Copper producers operating under the restriction scheme have decided to remove as from October 15, all restriction in production.—Reuter.

MARKET REACTION

London, Oct. 17.
Though the removal of copper restriction actually means there will be more metal available on the market, the London metal exchange reacted bullishly to the news and prices were marked up fairly sharply.

The explanation for this attitude lies in the fact that dealers in copper are not so well supplied with essential statistics as dealers in many other commodities and the drastic action just taken by producers co-operating under the restriction scheme is taken as an indication that they are in possession of information fully warranting the removal of restriction.

Regarding the amount of metal likely to become available with the big producers not restricting the output, copper dealers point out that smaller producers constitute an uncertain factor in this connection, as from previous experience they are likely to be chary in undertaking the financial outlay necessary for greater production, lest the situation meanwhile changes thereby rendering the increased capacity unprofitable.—Reuter.

Hankow, Oct. 17.
GENERAL LI TSUNG-JEN, famous Kwangsi leader, interviewed at an undisclosed village on the north bank of the Yangtze River, where he is directing operations, expressed the deepest concern over the Japanese operations in South China.

"JAPAN WISHES not only to occupy South China but to endanger British and French interests in Hongkong and Indo-China," declared General Li Tsung-Jen.

General Li added that Britain, France and China should put up a common front in which "China supply the man-power while Britain and France supply the funds and ammunition."

General Li pledged himself to rush Kwangsi troops into Kwangtung in defence of South China.—Reuter.

PEARL HARBOUR AS A NAVAL BASE

U.S. Authorities Plan Big Undertaking

Shanghai, October 17.
JAPANESE INVASION of Kwangtung which is close to the Philippines and threats to dominate the Pacific have led the United States to develop Pearl Harbour in Hawaii to provide anchorage for any fleet that may be needed for emergency. Plans are moving forward rapidly to eliminate the few present deficiencies of the great naval base on the island of Oahu, and make it adequate to any naval need which might arise in war or peacetime. Pearl Harbour, 2,100 miles from California, is regarded as the strategical centre of defence for western America.

One of the most pressing needs at Pearl Harbour has been the deepening of the harbour to make room for more fighting-ships. This improvement is now projected, according to a Washington report. A total of U.S. $15,000,000 was provided by the last Congress for channel dredging and harbour improvements in the Hawaii Islands. It is not known how much of this will be used for Pearl Harbour, but it is known the main share will be allocated for the base.

DREDGING OPERATIONS
A total of U.S. $16,000,000 has been spent for dredging operations alone since the United States took over the islands. Navy Department officials believe with the new appropriation, the work can be completed within two years. In requesting the money, high naval officials asserted that the deepening of the harbour was absolutely essential for the security of the fleet.

Naval experts have made detailed war-plan studies of how every vessel in the fleet that would be needed for an "overseas campaign" would be berthed in the harbour.

When the dredging operations are completed and a few other deficiencies remedied, officials say Pearl Harbour will be as great as any United States fleet anchorage. In addition to the dredging ap-

MR. MATSUOKA Named As Foreign Minister

Tokyo, Oct. 17.
The early retirement of Mr. Matsuoka from his present post as Managing Director of the South Manchurian Railway is predicted by the paper "Asahi Shimbun." Political circles interpret this report as meaning that the Premier, Prince Konoye, intends to appoint Mr. Matsuoka to the post of Foreign Minister for which he would be qualified by his previous career in the diplomatic service.

It will be recalled that it was Mr. Matsuoka who, as principal Japanese delegate to the League of Nations, announced in 1933 Japan's withdrawal.

Mr. Matsuoka is generally believed to be the advocate of an "energetic" foreign policy and to entertain close relations with the high military quarters.—Transocean.

CHINESE TROOPS IN SOUTH HOPEH

Mutiny Against Japanese Command

Hankow, Oct. 17.
Chinese troops in southern Hopeh mutinied against their Japanese command on the night of October 14 and occupied the city of Hsing-tai, north of Hantang on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, according to Chinese reports.

Fighting is now taking place south of Hsingtai where Japanese troops have engaged the rebels while Japanese reinforcements are being rushed from Hantang, the reports state.

The Chinese troops, enrolled by the Japanese, were commanded by Wang Tze-sing. When they occupied the city they claim to have captured the Japanese garrison commander there.—Reuter.

ARTILLERY FIRE

Hankow, Oct. 17.
On the Peiping-Hankow Railway front, fighting is now taking place on the Sze Tze Ho (Lion River), south of Sinyang, according to Chinese reports. Chinese and Japanese forces are exchanging artillery fire across the stream.—Reuter.

JAPANESE PRISONERS

Canton, Oct. 17.
All anti-aircraft defences along the railway as far as Shekiang have been withdrawn to Canton city following the abandonment of the Canton-Kowloon Railway, officials of which are evacuating Canton to-night the British employees. It is understood, remaining in Shamoen. The Government is expected to make a statement to-night.

Several hundred Japanese prisoners are reported, though it is not confirmed, to have arrived in Canton yesterday. They are stated to be interned in concentration camps north of Canton.—Reuter.

THIS CAME FROM FORMOSA

An offer was made yesterday through Mr. T. Nakamura, Japanese Consul-General in Hongkong, to the Hongkong Government by the Formosan authorities to supply Hongkong with vegetables in the event of a food shortage arising from the Kwangtung invasion by Japanese.

The reaction of Government to the offer is not available.

Since there is not likely to be a shortage for a week or so, no action is necessary in the matter.

It will be recalled that His Excellency the Governor, speaking at the meeting of the Legislative Council on Thursday last, said the invasion was a matter of grave and regretful concern to Hongkong and would influence the Colony directly since three-quarters of its vegetables and a large proportion of its meat, were obtained from Kwangtung.

General Ho Ying-ching To Lead Kwangtung Forces

Canton, October 17.
BIG GUNS AND CRACK DIVISIONS will be sent down by the Central Authorities to reinforce the defences of Canton, which is regarded as important as Wuhan, it was learned here to-day. Many wealthy Cantonese in Shanghai and elsewhere have offered to give financial assistance for the defence of their native districts. The Japanese forces operating in the East Valley districts will be increased from 50,000 to 100,000. They are driving towards Chunghua, the spring resort 40 miles north of Canton, in order to envelop this city. Another column will push northward towards the Kiangsi-Hunan border, it was learned.

Owing to strict press censorship, civilian casualties in these districts are extremely heavy. After their bombing experience to-day, the civil population there are evacuating this afternoon to the north and west.

EVEN CONVICTS WILL DO

When Japan Is Short Of Men!

Nanchang, Oct. 17.
Japan has mobilized even convicts in the war with China, as several prisoners of the 108th division, captured in the Tahan sector, confessed that they were released from gaol in order to fight China. The prisoners revealed that all able-bodied convicts are required to undergo military training and are promised a parole after active service in China.—International News Agency.

HANKOW AIRFIELD ATTACKED

Hankow, Oct. 17.
Six Japanese bombers broke into Hankow yesterday afternoon and swept the airfield with machine-gun bullets. They were greeted by intense Chinese anti-aircraft gunfire and forced to fly away shortly afterwards. No damage was done.

Eleven Japanese machines were reported to be heading this way from south Hupen when the air raid alarm was given. The aircraft, however, passed over here and proceeded north. After circling over Yinchow and Hanchuan, northwest of Hankow, they returned to Hankow, drawing a fuselage of anti-aircraft shells. They hurried away without dropping any bombs. Another formation of Japanese machines came later and machine-gunned the airfield.—Central News.

Shanghai Tennis

MR. KRENOV REGAINS WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Long Uphill Battle Against Mrs. Fletcher

Mrs. "Billie" Krenov, a veteran in tennis, recaptured the Shanghai Ladies Singles Championship as she disposed of Mrs. R. Fletcher, champion of Hongkong in 1936, on the Association court by an unusual score of 1-6, 6-0, 6-3.

The winner had a poor start and was very much upset by her opponent's tactics of using soft shots in rallies. Time and again Mrs. Krenov became the victim of this wily method of play. But beginning the second set, she suddenly went out in full cry and started to find her range, diving deeply and accurately to allow the former Hongkong star no time to settle down. With the exception of several deuce games, the champion encountered little difficulty in coming through.

Up against a better player, Mrs. Fletcher adopted a fine policy and continued to do what her rival disliked—sending the ball to her backhand and drawing her up in order to pass her.

The first set was successful as Mrs. Krenov was rendered helpless. The second set, however, saw a change in the order of play. Ordinarily, Mrs. Fletcher appears to be in no hurry to make the kill.

Making one desperate stand in order to crush her rival's game, Mrs. Krenov started hitting on her own account and opened up in a daring fashion. In spite of Mrs. Fletcher's cunning services, she banged across stunning shots from all angles and got enough back to take the first game after deuce.

STUBBORN RESISTANCE

Serving the second game, the uphill fighter drove with unflinching good length. Mrs. Fletcher gave stubborn resistance and retrieved several fine shots but, her efforts were not enough to fight a second deuce. In the third, the ultimate loser was love-40 behind before she again put up a determined struggle in which she caught up to 30-40 before being passed at the net.

A third deuce game took place in the fourth when some pretty exchanges were witnessed. The two kept driving at each other and ran from one side to another. Mrs. Krenov was more aggressive and forced the play most of the time to at last build up a 4-0 advantage. She then followed it up with a 40-30 game. The seventh and last game ended at love and the match was tied at one set all in exactly thirty minutes time.

UP FROM 40-LOVE

The outset of the third and deciding set was a grim fight as each broke the other's service until the fourth game in which Mrs. Krenov, after trailing love-40, came back to garner five points in approved fashion and turn the tide of battle from what should have been 2-all to 3-1. Mrs. Fletcher served to take the fifth and bring the score to a difference of one game but she could not make any headway until after 5-2.

Going into the ninth game and leading by 5-3, a lot of excitement was aroused when Mrs. Fletcher saved match point three times, once at 30-40 and twice at deuce.

The outstanding players for Queen's College were G. Singh while the losers were best served by M. Afzal.

HOME FOOTBALL CHATTER

Lawton Hits 'Em.

If you want to find out who has the strongest shot in the game ask a goalkeeper.

George Tweedy, of Grimsby Town, has a definite opinion on the subject. "Without doubt," said Tweedy, "Tom Lawton takes the prize. When we played Everton this season Lawton scored twice, both shots from outside the penalty area. Each time I saw him lift his leg to shoot but I might as well have been in bed. They were in the back of the net before I had time to move," writes a Home correspondent.

Talking of Everton reminds me also of the words of Hunter Hart. "Each time Everton have either won the championship or had a good year we have been able to play the same side week after week. So far this season we have been able to put the same side on the field every time. If this means anything we're all set."

SHELAEFF IN TRAINING

San Francisco, Oct. 8. Andre Shelaeff, 18-year-old welter-weight champion of the Orient, who arrived here last week preceded by the largest wave of publicity accorded any Far Eastern fighter since Pancho Villa, began training today as the first step of his American campaign.

San Francisco sports writers, their curiosity aroused by tales of Shelaeff's prowess penned by leading sports writers of Shanghai and Manila, turned out in a body to witness the youth's first workout. Despite the fact that his drills were confined merely to light work followed by a session on the heavy bag, writers were considerably impressed.

"The kid certainly has something," said one of them as Shelaeff whipped a six inch right deep into the leather bag with an explosive smack. "I wouldn't have wanted to be on the receiving end of that one."

LEONARD CRAWLEY WINS TWO MORE TROPHIES

Medal Day At St. Andrews

L. G. Crawley, who in the spring won the May competition for the Silver Cross, played splendid golf on the Old Course at St. Andrews recently to win two more trophies of the Royal and Ancient Club. With an almost perfect round of 72 Crawley won the Royal (King William IV) Medal and, with his aggregate of 145 for the Spring and Autumn meetings, the George Glennie Medal.

There were 27 scratchings from an original entry of 180. For a long while P. G. Tait led the field with 75, but the best scores came late in the day.

There was an extraordinary finish to the day, for I. A. de H. Lyle, partnered by his brother, and one of the last players to finish, needed two 4's for a round of 70.

At the 17th he was over the green and took six, which left him needing a four to tie with Crawley. Lyle appeared to hit his last drive perfectly and the ball was seen to pitch on the middle of the fairway.

But the ball was not found and, playing another from the tee, Lyle took six for the hole and so finished with 74.

This won for him the Gold medal for the second best scratch score. The Silver Boomerang for the best handicap return was won by R. Park with 84-13=71.

The best scratch scores were: L. G. Crawley, 72 (wins Royal medal); I. A. de H. Lyle, 74 (wins gold medal); P. G. Tait, 75; Lieutenant-Colonel G. F. Underwood, 76; J. L. C. Jenkins, 76; R. B. How, 76; D. Kyle, 77; W. S. L. White, 77; J. E. Craddock-Hartopp, 78; G. W. Mackie, 79; J. Cameron, Conn. 79; R. Crawford-Benson, 79; J. H. Nook, 79; W. A. Siewright, 79; Angus Everard, 80; J. Gordon Simpson, 80; W. B. Torrance, 80; Colonel A. R. Moodie, 80; J. R. S. Waterson, 80.

NEW R. AND A. CAPTAIN
St. Andrews' caddies under-rated the prowess of Colonel H. E. Sutherland, who drove himself into office as captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club in succession to the Duke of Kent.

They clustered on the fairway, some of them quite close to the teeing ground, but the Colonel hit a perfect shot over the heads of the caddies, who wheeled round and chased the ball which was caught by James Spittal.

He caught it on the bounce and walked back smiling, tossing the ball in his hand before donning his cap and presenting the ball to the new captain.

The reward, after congratulations and a shake of the hand from Colonel Sutherland, was the customary golden sovereign.

Colonel Sutherland, a left-handed golfer—the first, within living memory to hold the office—was out at 7.30 a.m. accompanied by his caddie, and he drove a succession of balls on to the West sands before returning to the club-house.

He came out again just before 8 a.m., preceded by Colonel Mac-

Allan and Mr. C. L. P. Grace, and accompanied by Willie Auchterlonie, the former open champion and present professional to the Royal and Ancient Club.

Auchterlonie teed the ball and with a minimum of flourish, Colonel Sutherland drove off to the accompaniment of the roar of the old cannon, fired by Mr. F. W. Barnes, volunteer coastguard. Several hundred spectators watched the ceremony.

Tottenham Beat Southampton

SPROSTON'S DISPLAY

Tottenham Hotspurs achieved all that could be hoped for in securing both points on Southampton's ground recently, though I cannot imagine that Mr. Peter McWilliam found the manner of this success wholly satisfying, writes a Home correspondent.

Southampton's keen quick-taking, quick-raiding side had the "Spurs in trouble at several stages in the game.

What would satisfy Tottenham was the work of Sproston. Had Osman, Southampton's outside left, met any lesser back he might well have turned the game in favour of the home side. Even Sproston had often to take the safe rather than the constructive line. I do not think many wing men will force him so frequently to put the ball out of play.

Southampton did not take the defeat to heart. After all, they faced rivals who are admittedly among the strongest in the division, with reserves in goal, at right-back, and at centre forward.

They scored first, a swift right-wing raid catching the defence at fault and giving Brophy (reserve leader) a simple short-range shot in three minutes; and there were several occasions when Tottenham's goal escaped as much by luck as by skill.

"Spurs had their fine patches. One came near the end of the first half and brought their two goals, Willie Hall having a foot behind both.

W. Hall caught S. Ashbridge napping. I thought, with his swerving shot from the edge of the penalty area that gave "Spurs their second goal.

Shanghai Bowlers Have Narrow Win

Visiting the Kowloon Football Club yesterday afternoon, a Shanghai rink came very near to being held to a tie when the Football Club, on the last head, came to within a shot of the Shanghai total of 21.

The Shanghai team comprised Messrs. K. L. Swartzel, A. M. Gutierrez, Y. M. C. Lopes, and J. W. Brierley (skip). The Kowloon Club were represented by R. Hall, D. Chittenden, T. Ferrusson, and W. V. Field (skip).

Opening with five shots on the first head, Shanghai led seven-nil on the second head, eleven-three on the seventh head, and fifteen-seven on the eleventh head.

The K.F.C. rallied at this point with three shots on the 12th head. Scoring three singles, they came within two shots of Shanghai on the 15th head.

On the sixteenth head Shanghai scored four, leading 19-13. The K.F.C. rink rallied with a two, a one, and another two shots to reach within one point of their opponents with two heads to play.

Then Shanghai scored two, leading 21-18. The K.F.C. scored two on the last head, losing 21-20.

COD-SKIN SHOES FOR GOERING'S DAUGHTER

The City of Wesermünde has sent to Field-Marshal Goering, Commissioner for the Four-Year-Old Plan, a pair of baby's shoes, made of fish leather, for his three-months-old daughter, Edda.

The gift was accompanied by the following doggerel verse composed by Dr. Dellius, Mayor of the city.

Of Wesermünde, faithful town fish,
To honour the Marshal's daughter
Edda's little feet will start to patter;
Shoes made of blessed submarine
matter:
Should guide her on her way,
Caught in the North Sea's salty spray
By German ship and German fisher's hand.
A cod was very quickly brought to land.
How willingly he sacrificed his skin
For tiny feet to find a shelter in Fish leather shoes we therefore can Contribute to the Four-Year
Plan.
Field-Marshal Goering is a freeman of Wesermünde.

DOG AS "PEDESTRIAN"

Claim For Privilege At Crossings

Interest has been aroused at Bognor Regis by a dog which, when out alone, looks for a Belisha beacon before crossing the street, and the R.S.P.C.A. may urge an alteration in the law to protect dogs "trained to use pedestrian crossings."

According to the A.A. legal department, the proper interpretation of "pedestrian" would not include dogs.

An Inspector of the R.S.P.C.A.
said:

"Many dog owners are now training their pets to use pedestrian crossings, even when they are unaccompanied. While any decent driver would stop for such a dog, it seems reasonable that for these purposes dogs should be classed legally as pedestrians."

AUSTINS' BABY
CHRISTENED

The infant daughter of Mr. H.
W. "Bunny" Austin and Mrs.
Austin (Miss Phyllis Konstant) was christened at Hampstead Parish Church recently.

The Rev. J. F. Carter, vicar of was given the names Jennifer Jane.

The godparents were Mrs. Phyllis Merivale (Gladys Cooper), Mrs.
Phyllis Fennell, ("Bunny") Austin's sister, Mr. Colin Keith Johnston, the actor, and Mr. D. H. Va-lentia.

JAPANESE CROSS THE EAST RIVER

Chinese Massing Troops For Defence Of Canton

Shanghai, October 17.
On their advance against Canton the Japanese forces crossed the East River—a tributary of the Pearl River—early yesterday morning according to reports from the South China front.

The Japanese continued to advance in the direction of the Canton-Kowloon railway and are already in its neighbourhood. The occupation of the railway line is expected to take place at any moment.

As the Japanese reports show the Chinese have concentrated 20,000 men at Tsengcheng, 70 kilometres east of Canton to assist in the defence of Canton itself.

On the Yangtze front the Japanese land, sea and air forces have made heavy attacks on the Chinese so-called second line of defence within which lie Shihwuyao and Tayeh. By blowing up the boom placed by the Chinese in the Weyuankee Bay and thus opening a free passage for shipping again, the Japanese were able in advancing in order to subject the Chinese lines of defence between Shihwuyao and Hwangshukang to heavy fire.

Japanese mine seekers are already within eight kilometres of Shihwuyao while the land troops are still about 16 kilometres away. Nine miles, that is 18 kilometres, below Shihwuyao, the Japanese have landed further troops—Transocean.

GOERING ON PEACE

German-Italian Relations

Berlin, Oct. 17.
General Goering, writing in the periodical "Four Year Plan," refers to the Munich Conference and adds that "great tasks lie before us. Economic and cultural progress must be continued. I expect Germany's trade and industry to stake all their strength joyfully in the days to come and show their initiative in the performance of these tasks."

NEW EPOCH
"We begin this new epoch of peaceful work in the knowledge that renewed friendship with the Italian people and their brilliant Duce, and with the intention of working for further co-operation with other great nations."

"In the spirit of sincere understanding and honest co-operation, the peoples will be able to devote their energy to the fulfilment of their own vital tasks. The meaning of these vital tasks is not war but peace."

Referring to Munich he said the Fuehrer's love for peace saved Europe from the horrors of a new war.—Reuter.

AIR RAID ALARM IN HANKOW

Hankow, Oct. 17.
The air raid alarm was sounded here at 11 o'clock this morning when Japanese aircraft were sighted heading up-river.

The planes, however, did not visit Hankow and the all-clear was sounded half an hour later. It is learned that the raiders heavily bombed the Peiping-Hankow Railway, north of Hankow, in the vicinity of Ksiakang and Kwangshui.—Reuter.

MRS. CHARLOTTE HALDANE

Chungking, Oct. 17.
Mrs. Charlotte Haldane, special correspondent of the "London Herald" and representative of the British and French Women's Committee against War and Fascism, left for Chengtu by air this afternoon after a short stay here. Mrs. Haldane will stop at Chengtu for three days, after which she will return to England by way of Kunming.—Central News.

JAPANESE SHIP DETAINED

Tokyo, Oct. 17.
The motorship Tsuruga Maru, missing since September 13 when she sailed from Tsuruga on her maiden voyage to Seishin, Korea, was detained at Vladivostok, according to the Foreign Office. The ship was said to be washed ashore and the crew of 13 are safe.—Reuter.

KOBAYASHI'S PLANS

Invasion Of South China

Hankow, Oct. 17.
According to intelligence reports, Admiral Sato Kobayashi, Governor General of Formosa, is the author of a plan for the invasion of Kwangtung, although the decision to launch the attack is decided by the military party and backed by the Japanese navy.

Admiral Kobayashi had been in charge of intelligence and special mission in South China for the past three years with agents in Canton and other parts of Kwangtung. He formulated the plan that the Japanese garrison in Formosa be sent to China, while replacements are filled by raw recruits from Japan.

The Japanese troops in the island had undergone several months training in mountain warfare in view of the hilly terrain in South China. Those units, which first landed at Bias Bay, are commanded by Captains Tome and Ono and were part of the Shanghai bluejackets who were trained in landing operations since they fought with the 19th Route Army in 1932.

South China Japanese detachments expect lightning success in order to converge on Canton before the siege of Hankow in order to achieve certain politico-military objectives.

Japanese plans are upset by the stubborn Cantonese resistance and the arrival of reinforcements from Kwangsi, Hunan and Kiangsi. Other crack divisions from other parts of the country are also en route to Canton.—International News Agency.

CIVIL AIR GUARD UNIFORM

London, Oct. 17.

Private Funeral Of Lord Stanley

London, Oct. 17.
The funeral of the late Lord Stanley, Secretary for Dominions who died on Sunday aged 44, will be held privately on Thursday.

The King and Queen have sent a message of deep sympathy to Lady Stanley whose husband was a great friend of Their Majesties.

A message has also been received from the Australian Government while the High Commissioner for Canada declared that Lord Stanley endeared himself to the Canadians during his recent visit to the Dominion.—Reuter.

British Officer Injured In Palestine Skirmish

Jerusalem, October 17.
Following several fresh incidents over the week-end, a twenty-four hour curfew has been imposed in the old city of Jerusalem, beginning from 7 p.m. More than twelve towns in Palestine, most of which are populated by Arabs, are now under night time curfew.

While the employees of the British-owned Jerusalem Electric Corporation were working, shots were fired at them. The police returned fire but fortunately no one was injured.

Four Arabs were injured when a bomb exploded inside the Mosque of Omar area. Another incident occurred at Ramleh where an unsuccessful attempt was made to shoot a British constable.

Troops then cordoned off the town and searched three hundred suspects, and curfew has also been imposed here.

THREE KILLED
Shooting between a military patrol and the natives in Judean Hills, West Jerusalem, resulted in three Arabs being killed and a British officer injured.

When six men were seen bolting from the scene of an explosion on the railway line near Gaza, troops opened fire, killing three and injuring two.

Mr. MacMichael, the High Commissioner, has returned to Jerusalem from London.—Reuter.

NEW DEFENCE AND ARMAMENT PROGRAMME

London, Oct. 17.
The new programme of national defence and rearmament will, according to informed quarters, play a prominent part in the discussions at the Cabinet Council which is expected to be held on Wednesday.

The other subjects which will engage the attention of the Cabinet are the situation in Palestine, the Shots were fired at police posts and a British Assistant Commissioner of Police narrowly escaped injury when he was fired at from the roof top.

All the gates of the Old City are closed, except one, while Jewish quarters are protected with sand-bag outposts.—Reuter.
